

Capizzi Pizza

I wasn't completely certain that it was possible to find the perfect pizza. A lot goes into absolute perfection. The crust must be right, the herbs must accent the pizza... not overpower it, and the toppings MUST be fresh. Well, thankfully this "perfect" blend does exist, and I found it at Capizzi Pizza.

There is definitely plenty of competition in the pizza market in New York City, but nothing even comes close to the delicious bliss of a slice of Capizzi Pizza... although one slice will never be enough. It is an addiction that can easily be birthed with the first bite.

Offering a plethora of toppings, Capizzi Pizza also takes the guesswork out and offers several specialty options, like the Pizza del Nonno, the Artichoke Special, and the Prosciutto and Arugula. And while pizza is definitely the reason to visit, you must first indulge in the best Spinach Rice Balls in existence.□

Located right in Hell's Kitchen, the dining area is warm and inviting, making it also a wonderful place to enjoy a glass of wine and relish over a fresh-baked Cannoli.□ If you are on the go, Capizzi Pizza also offers carryout and delivery!
