

Moulin Rouge!

The first thing to say about Moulin Rouge! is that it isn't simply a show. This is a spectacular experience of epic performances that leaves the audience feeling as if they have gone on a grand adventure that can't quite be compared to any other entertainment option.

The sets are intricate in a way that makes the scenes almost immersive, the costumes are filled with so much detail that you're afraid to blink and miss a button or a pair of boots, and the performers are brilliant... each leaving their mark or a purely memorable extravaganza.

In short, if you decide to see only one touring production this season, spend no time deciding that it should be Moulin Rouge!
